Forest road running south to the small stream called Mutsche. Three armored half tracks and two light reconnaissance cars left a woods camp located 300 meters northeast of Hagscheide while a "motorized pontoon" arrived from the direction of Oberhof. This latter vehicle, [redacted] holds at least forty persons; a rear screw provides for propulsion in water; when seen on land, it was proceeding at 35-40 kilometers per hour.

25X1

Approximately 800 troops were seen training around Hagscheide. This unit, [redacted] previously had been seen at Crawinkel but after training went to Ohrdruf. Among weapons were twelve 76.2 mm AT guns (M42) and eight 82 mm mortars (M41), the latter hauled on trucks. The column contained six light reconnaissance cars and eight armored half tracks, the latter each mounting two MGs. Support included older model SIS trucks and six field kitchens.
